Anyone who speaks needs real feedback to improve. This one-day workshop is an opportunity to be coached by someone trained to highlight strengths, correct habits and sharpen skills.

April Farlow has spent over 20 years motivating audiences to get out of their comfort zone, speak up and represent their values. She has taught over 20,000 individuals and honed her skills to motivate audiences of all backgrounds.

April will lead this interactive experience allowing participants to craft and deliver 3 different speeches, get real time coaching, and enhance strengths based on their communication style.
